April 2018 Programs

Tuesday, April 10; 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. - "Using Social History for Genealogy: Filling in the Gaps Between Birth, Marriage and Death" presented by Noel G. Ferre, Program Chair, Castle Rock Colorado Genealogical Society

Our ancestors have stories to tell well beyond their vital records. This presentation will focus on how to research the social history surrounding individuals and fill in the blanks in their day-to-day activities. Learn how you can expand individual life stories and in the process uncover a bit more of your family tree. We'll explore the benefits of using social history, where to look and what to do with new-found information. Let's breathe some life into our ancestors and bring context to their daily lives!

Tuesday, April 17; 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. "Mapping Your Ancestors" presented by Kirsten Canfield and Summer Greenwood, Librarians at Arapahoe Libraries

Find out where your ancestors lived! Kirsten and Summer are info technology experts and genealogy enthusiasts who will demonstrate how to glean clues from old documents to determine your family's location at any given point in time. They will then introduce us to new mapping resources that can be used to pinpoint historic locales and link them to the actual present-day locations.
